Memorial Day Death Toll Hits a Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents across the nation claimed 155 lives Thursday, a record for a one-day Memorial Day observance. The toll surpassed the National Safety Council estimate of 130 for the 30-hour period.

The previous record for a Memorial Day observance of 30 hours was 109 in 1956.

The count of traffic fatalities covered the period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Thursday.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 90 and 130 persons would be killed on the highways and streets during the holiday period. The council's latest report showed that traffic accidents in the first four months this year killed 11,630 persons, an average of nearly 100 a day.

This year's Memorial Day traffic death toll compared to 107 for the 1962 holiday, also a period of 30 hours. In 1951, the only other one-day observance of the holiday since World War II, traffic deaths numbered 81, which is a record low for any one-day observance of any holiday.

Generally fair weather in most of the country lured millions of persons to the highways in the first holiday of the warm season. Memorial Day is not a legal holiday in several southern states. Most workers in states which observed the holiday, available information indicates, were back on the job today, precluding an extended weekend holiday.

The traffic death toll compares with the record high of 253 for a one-day celebration of any holiday, set on Christmas Day in 1946.

The Associated Press made a survey of a recent non-holiday period of 30 hours, from 6 p.m. May 15 to midnight May 16, to provide a basis for comparison with Thursday's toll. The count showed 98 deaths in traffic. There also were 6 boating deaths and 9 drownings.

Drownings during the holiday period totaled 25 and 6 persons lost their lives in boating accidents.

Ecuador Holds 21 U.S. Tuna Fishing Boats

SALINAS, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador held 21 tuna boats from San Diego, Calif., today for alleged gal fishing within its territorial waters.

Two boats, the White Star and the Ranger, faced charges originally. But Commander Francisco Espinosa of the navy general staff said Thursday night the fleet of 21 would be impounded and the captains tried if they lacked proper permits.

Nineteen of the boats reported they accompanied the White Star and Ranger to port in a show of solidarity. The navy said, however, its warships escorted all the tuna boats to this port, 225 miles southwest of Quito.

The tuna skippers claim they fished 13 miles offshore, while Ecuador contends they were only 3 miles off shore. The United States recognizes only a three-mile territorial limit.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk demanded release of the White Star and the Ranger and called for negotiations to settle the dispute.

Honorary Degree for McClellan

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Harding College presented Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., an honorary doctor of laws degree Thursday for "genuine integrity, unsurpassed courage, deep dedication to duty and magnetic leadership."

McClellan told the graduating class of the school that they shouldn't be afraid of entering politics.

He told the seniors, "Politics is our system of government. I believe the hope of America today is in young men and women like you who are witnessing what has happened to America in the past few years and are wondering what you can do about it."

"I think you will see the necessity of bringing the federal government back to its high standards."

McClellan urged the students to remain in Arkansas.

He said he realized the country must continue in space exploration, though he didn't like spending the money, and that a decrease in farming is beneficial to Arkansas and other states because it paves the way for industry.

All Praise of Hope and Festival

The following letter was received by George Frazier, chairman of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival held last week:

"It is difficult to know where to begin this letter because I have so many things I wish to say about your town of Hope, and my weekend at the Poultry Festival."

"I happen to be the one who was lucky enough to win that wonderful car and for this I cannot say thank you in adequate words—but I think I would have written this anyway because I was impressed by your community."

"My husband and I came to Hope for just a pleasant weekend visit to see the Poultry Festival and our good friends, Ed and George Harris, who have just started the Harris Bros. Farm there."

"But we found a community so full of initiative, responsibility, good citizenship and progressive thinking and then we realized that underlying all of this impetus and enterprise was a town filled with the nicest, friendliest people we've met in a long time. During a long walk through the heart of your town early one morning every person we passed gave us the warmest 'good morning' possible."

"You should be proud of your town—it is a good town—we came for one visit, but we want to come back again soon. And we'll bring our four children with us to show them how much you have that is wonderful."

"It was a privilege to be there."

23 Houses Built on Wrong Site

By BARRY SCHWEID

MANASSAS, Va. (AP)—An 86-year-old Negro widow and her family have been declared the legal owners of land on which a developer built 23 gleaming new houses for white families.

The property—16½ acres—was awarded Thursday by a Prince William County Circuit Court jury to Marconia Ray and her nine children after an 11-day trial.

The Rays had claimed Cecil D. Hyllon, developer of Marumens village near Woodbridge, Va., took 27½ acres that belonged to their family since 1920.

Lawrence Douglas, attorney for Hyllon, said he intends to appeal. He told the jury of six men and one woman that when bulldozers appeared in the disputed area the Rays made no claim of trespassing.

However, Harvey Rosenberg, an attorney for the Rays, said Hyllon knew there was a boundary problem when work started.

The 23 houses on the acreage awarded the Rays are Cape Cods, colonials and split levels that sell for $14,000 to $22,000. They are part of a white subdivision of the village and just north of the house in which Mrs. Ray and three of her daughters live.

The suit involved only the boundary question. Any financial consideration would have to be settled through negotiation or further litigation.

Says Croxton Just Wasn't Thinking

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—William J. Smith, legislative assistant to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, says Benton County Rep. Hardy Croxton spoke without thinking when he criticized the 1963 legislative session.

Smith, declaring that he was a good friend of Croxton's, said he was sure Croxton would not have said some of the things he did had he thought them through. He mentioned specifically a Croxton suggestion that the governor should have vetoed every bill passed which had been introduced by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dusen in order to break Van Dusen's political power.

Croxton told a Little Rock civic club Tuesday that the 1963 session was "lousy" and that the only thing good about it was that a few bad bills were defeated.

Smith told another civic club Thursday that the 1963 legislature actually was successful in many ways, including accomplishments in fiscal measures. He said Arkansas' sound spending practices were the envy of many states.

Phone Firm Buys Out Another

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—H. R. Wilbourne Jr., president of Allied Telephone Co., announced Thursday the purchase of the Berryville Telephone Co. at an undisclosed price.

The purchase will give Allied almost 14,000 telephones in Arkansas. Wilbourne said the Berryville firm will be merged into the Allied system. Allied has 31 exchanges in 22 counties.

No Shortage of Sugar in the U.S.

NET YORK (AP)—No shortage of sugar is threatened in the United States, the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange said today, despite roller coaster activity of sugar prices and talk about hoarding.

In a memorandum to three congressional committees investigating the sugar situation, the exchange quoted the U.S. Agriculture Department as saying that commitments from friendly nations exporting sugar indicates that the normal requirements of the United States will be met.

The exchange said the memorandum is designed to correct some misunderstanding of the role played by commodity exchanges in the free enterprise marketing system.

Among the points stressed is that exchanges neither buy nor sell commodities at any time for their own account.

The congressional investigations developed from the belief of some members of the Senate and House that the quick rise from about 2½ to more than 12 cents a pound for raw sugar was caused in part by deliberate withholding by suppliers seeking exorbitant profits.

Sugar prices have dropped in recent days after skyrocketing.

The coffee and sugar exchange said the rise in sugar prices "is directly traceable to supply and demand. World sugar production has fallen while the world's consumption of sugar is rising."

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration announced Thursday the approval of an $800,000 loan for construction of men's dormitory at Arkansas State Teachers College.

Latest Integration Violence Centers in Philadelphia and at Tallahassee, Florida

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police and Negroes scuffled again today outside a city school construction site before, with dramatic suddenness, a dispute over alleged job discrimination was ended as four skilled Negro workmen were accepted into union membership and given jobs on the project.

Carrying lunch buckets, a plumber, a steamfitter and two electricians marched through the project's wire gates to prolonged cheers of hundreds of other Negroes, fervent cries of "Amen" and loud singing of religious hymns.

The 200-man police detail, about one-fourth of it Negro, remained on duty as the crowd began breaking up.

The agreement was worked out Advancement of Colored People the Philadelphia Building Trades Council and the Philadelphia Board of Education.

There was one dissent. A local steamfitters union spokesman said his union was not a party to the agreement.

Only an hour before the negotiators announced agreement, police and pickets clashed as officers escorted some 80 to 100 workmen through the lines around the construction site. At least eight policemen and an undetermined number of pickets were hurt in the scuffle, apparently none seriously.

The NAACP began the picketing last Monday in support of protests that labor unions refused to accept Negro skilled workers as members. Construction on the $6-million school in a predominantly Negro section practically halted.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Ben Willis released three Negroes charged with contempt of court in staging anti-segregation protests before white theaters but postponed hearing on 223 others facing similar charges.

The delay was granted to give attorneys time to confer over the issues and charges.

Plans remained unchanged for a 12th massive protest against segregated theaters tonight.

The three released were two juveniles and a waiter who told the judge they were unaware of his court order forbidding such demonstrations.

Before releasing them, Willis evoked their promise that they would obey his court order forbidding demonstrations, picketing, entering, blocking and interfering with the operation of white theaters.

Willis admonished 33 juveniles under age 17—scheduled for later hearing—that they should obey the law or find that they have nothing.

"Those who take the law into their own hands," he said, "find that some of their own rights are lost."

When the more than 200 defendants appeared at the opening of court today, Negro leader Patricia Due said all would plead not guilty.

After assigning attorneys for the defendants, Willis ordered them into three case groups for later handling and ordered a court recess.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Authorities used tear gas to stall one march by Negroes and arrested 257 during Thursday, the 10th straight day of anti-segregation demonstrations in Florida's capital city.

Most of those arrested are students at Florida A&M (Negro) University, and 220 of them were ordered before State Judge Ben Willis today to answer contempt of court charges.

The other 37 are to appear in City Court Monday to face charges of unlawful assembly.

There was no violence during the marches, aimed at segregated movie theaters. A series of sit-in demonstrations some time ago resulted in the quiet desegregation of lunch counters in the business district.

Plans remained unchanged for another massive protest of segregation at two white theaters tonight.

The mass arrests in Tallahassee provided the major development on the racial front Thursday, but anti-segregation activity was popping in many points across the nation.

Integrationists made plans to increase the tempo of demonstrations against segregation in Jackson, Miss.

A Negro spokesman said a massive, Birmingham-type campaign will be launched in Los Angeles with total elimination of discrimination as its goal.

Cities experiencing racial demonstrations Thursday included Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Baton Rouge, La., Chattanooga, Tenn., and Cambridge, Md.

In Tallahassee, the 220 jailed by county officers were part of a first protest before theater. An hour later, city police broke up a second march of approximately 200 Negroes and arrested 37 on charges of unlawful assembly.

The police used two tear gas bombs and a determined line to turn back the second group. The 37 arrested refused to leave a churchyard where they had taken refuge from the tear gas.

Circuit Judge Willis Thursday ordered that the protests be halted until after a hearing Monday following a complaint by Les Pendleton, a theater manager. Pendleton charged the demonstrators were hurting his business.

Two hours after the judge's ruling, at 6 p.m. 220 Negroes assembled before the theater in a quiet demonstration, the 10th in 10 days. Some carried picket signs urging desegregation.

Across the street, more than 100 white persons gathered. Dozens of law enforcement officers watched both groups.

Twelve minutes after the Negroes arrived, Sheriff Bill Joyce ordered them to disperse. When they refused, he ordered the group arrested for contempt of court.

While being herded to blocks to county jail, the Negroes chanted: "Freedom, Freedom, Freedom," their favorite anti-segregation chant.

Leaders of the Congress of Racial Equality have said the demonstrations would continue until segregation is ended.

Mayor Sam Teague said he would present to the City Commission a request by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for a biracial committee to resolve grievances.

Relapse Puts Pope John Near Death

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A sudden relapse put Pope John XXIII near death today. Roman Catholic prelates administered the communion viaticum and extreme unction, the sacraments for persons in danger of dying.

One of the Pope's doctors, Piero Mazzoni of Rome, was quoted as saying, "It can be a matter of hours—or of days."

That pronouncement was relayed to newsmen by Raimondo Manzini, director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, after an afternoon visit to the sickroom. Manzini was in tears.

"The Pope is grave, very grave," the Vatican radio announced. The new crisis is most grave.

The 81-year-old spiritual ruler of the world's 500 million Roman Catholics, who had appeared to be making a strong comeback from a near fatal crisis Tuesday, was reported falling rapidly.

It was a situation that he has regarded solemnly.

"Don't worry too much about me," he told his chief physician, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, on Gasbarrini's departure Thursday for his home in Bologna. "The bags are packed and I am ready, in fact very ready, to go."

Gasbarrini was recalled from Bologna to assist physicians already on the scene when the emergency developed today.

It was believed the Pope suffered a new outbreak of internal bleeding, provoked by an internal stomach growth which had troubled him for a year. So far vague ly defined, it could be a benign tumor, a cancer or an overgrowth of normal tissue.

To all members of the Vatican staff, the word went out: "Pray!" Cardinals rushed to the Vatican. Only a few were admitted to the apartment where the Pope lay on a cast iron bed.

Among those admitted were Archbishop Angelo Dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state; Gustavo Cardinal Cento of the Vatican Curia, and Raimondo Manzini, director of L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper.

It was a dramatic turn in the illness of the pontiff.

This morning the Vatican had said the Pope was continuing to rally. The press office said he spend a tranquil night.

Prelates were looking ahead to the Pope resuming activity. Suddenly came the crisis that his doctors had feared—a crisis at a time when he was still weak from the last one.

Doctors reported the hemorrhaging had been halted Wednesday. The Pope's personal doctor, Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, had returned to his home in Bologna.

Gasbarrini said he and his colleagues were confident the Pope would rally.

But he provided a possible clue to the new collapse. He told newsmen then that Pope John should stay in bed, but had refused to do so.

Manzini, emerging from the sickroom, told newsmen the Pope had "suffered a complete reversal."

"An unexpected worsening, against all expectations, has occurred in the general condition of the Pope," he said.

DOROTHY DIX

AMOROUS STEPSON-IN-LAW HER PROBLEM

Dear Helen: My first husband died four years ago, leaving me with three children. Being depressed and lonely, I decided to pack up myself and the children and try life in a new country.

Soon after I arrived I met a widower, a personable man with a teen son and a married daughter, the mother of four. My children and I liked them and they us.

"We'll be one big happy family," I confidently told my new husband. And so it has been until recently when his daughter went to the hospital to give birth to her fifth child.

"Be the darling you are," she begged, "and look after my family while I'm gone."

Next weekend her husband, who is 30, drove down for me. I might add that though 44, I am young looking for my age, have a good figure and dress tastefully. I say this not in boasting but to give you the complete picture. During the long drive back to his farm, my stepson-in-law began to tell me about the frigidity of his wife. Being broad-minded, I listened even though thinking it in poor taste for him to talk as he did.

It was midnight when we arrived at the farm. The children were sleeping at a neighbor's and we were alone in the house. To my alarm he followed me into my bedroom and closed the door. I told him if he didn't leave I would throw the lamp through the window. He left but I hardly slept the balance of the night. In the morning I said I would stay if there was no more of his nonsense. He promised, but that evening after I had put the children to bed he said he was going to take a bath and asked me to wash his back. I refused.

He returned wearing only a bathrobe and sat down beside me where I was knitting and watching TV. I pushed him away, got to the phone, called my husband and asked him to come up the next morning. My stepson-in-law said he would deny everything if I told.

When my husband arrived and I told him the whole story, he was very much upset. We stayed till Sunday but he said nothing to his son-in-law. After the daughter came home she phoned to say what she thought of me for walking out on her husband and children.

I told her the truth. Now her husband accuses me of flirting with him. She is on his side. My husband will do nothing. Who comes first—his second wife or his daughter? He believes me but doesn't want a breach in the family. Whatever can I do —Martyr

Dear Martyr: Begin with a thorough, candid analysis of your part in your relationship with this stepson-in-law. Sometimes, when one is a stranger moving into close association with a whole new "second family," one is so eager to put one's best foot forward that it is put too far forward, and winds up in the mouth. Are you perfectly satisfied that you did not in the slightest way carry your efforts to be friendly and helpful across the indefinable line into the minefield of flirtation and provocation.

Since early Hollywood days, and probably long before, one of the favorite settings for a "love scene" has been a remote spot where a male and female are unavoidably "trapped" together. I can't avoid wondering whether your stepson-in-law had a reputation for philandering before you and he found yourselves alone under the same roof at midnight.

Naturally, if this were the case, you — being a woman of experience — should have been forewarned. But even if you were not forewarned, the content of the conversation on your drive out to the farm should have put you on your guard as well as your own mature realization that you were in the company of a virile young man whose wife had just given birth to their fifth child.

Stop worrying about the past and concentrate on demonstrating your affection toward your husband. It's ridiculous for you to force him to decide between you and his daughter. He loves you both, and, while he trusts and believes you, he is understandably reluctant to admit that his daughter is married to a philanderer, or at least to make an issue of it.

He rightly doesn't want any breach in the family over a situation you can easily keep from happening again. In time the daughter will cease to feel any resentment, especially if you leave no shadow of doubt in her mind that it's your own husband you're interested in primarily, not hers. Advices Adoption of Simple Laws

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan Jr. says state courts can minimize unwanted intrusion by federal tribunals by adopting procedures that are swift, simple and free of technical pitfalls.

Brennan spoke Thursday at the 14th annual meeting of the Advisory Council of Judges. The council, whose 50 members are judges of federal and state courts, is an arm of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Tel Aviv police to arrest Strauss. He asserted Strauss had responsibility for the death of a number of Jews, Czechs and Poles in a forced labor camp at Schongau in April 1945.

Stauss, at that time commander of an air defense school in Schongau, said there was a Soviet prisoner-of-war camp there, but no concentration camp.

Strauss, a guest of the Israeli government, told a news conference:

Wedding Bed No Place for Leopard

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A wedding bed is no place for a pet leopard, says Patricia Spades. And unless, Tinker Bell, a 10-week old leopard, learns to sleep in a cage, Miss Spades' marriage to Frank Michelberger is off.

Tinker Bell only likes to sleep with her master.

"Patricia and Tinker Bell just don't seem to hit it off right," said Michelberger Thursday. "I just wanted to see how far one could go to make a wild animal tame."

"I like the little stinker," countered Patricia, "but I'm darned if it's going to sleep in our bed."

Michelberger didn't enlighten newsmen as to his next move.

L.A. Target of Total Integration

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A minister active in the integrationist movement says Los Angeles will be the target of Birmingham-style efforts to force "a total community" that is nonsegregated.

The Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, a spokesman for the Los Angeles chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, put it this way Thursday in discussing the plan with newsmen:

"Los Angeles will be the focal point for our march toward equality. We have the largest Negro population here of any city west of the Mississippi.

"We are not asking for a small specific adjustment, but a total community integration."

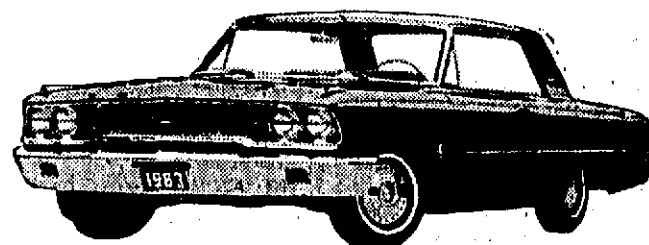

The Negro clergyman, who returned only recently from visits to Alabama and Washington, D.C., frequently has participated in prayers involving integration—some of them conducted on the steps of the Los Angeles City Hall.

After last Tuesday, when a general election established that Los Angeles will have three Negroes on the 15-member City Council, there were immediate predictions by the principals and others that considerable civil rights legislation would be pressed. But there was no mention by the councilmen of any organized effort along that line.

The Rev. Mr. Dawkins, however, said Negro leaders will meet next week to plan strategy and a timetable for "a general attack." He conceded that discrimination in Los Angeles is confined largely to the "de facto" consequences of jobs and housing. In that connection, he said that labor unions would be a target of the campaign.

"We have found," he said, "that in many instances the unions are worse than management in discrimination against the Negro."

The Rev. Mr. Dawkins is pastor of the People's Independent Community church.

THE DOCTOR'S STRANGE SECRET
By Elizabeth Seifert
Copyright © 1962 by Elizabeth Seifert

THE STORY: Dr. Ash, a substitute doctor, has filled Jennie in on some of Dr. Howdeshell's past, but not all of it. Dr. Howdeshell is still a mystery to Jennie as she talks to him in the jail, where he awaits a hearing on the charge of having fatally shot a man.

XVII
"Jim Ash," I told, "said that the experience stayed with you." "It took some more lessons," he said finally. "I was cancelled, and sure of myself as a doctor by then. But gradually things began to teach me that no doctor—certainly no surgeon—ever works alone. That, from outside of himself, he is given a power to see and to feel beyond his own will, and beyond any human ability, to do the things which, on occasion, he is called upon to do. There is some power that guides his hand. I have become increasingly aware of that power as I have lived and worked and learned. It is not a matter of a man's own cleverness, his knowledge, or even his experience. For the proper doctor, for a man receptive to it, some other power holds his hand steady and true."

He spoke with the humility I had come to love in Smokey. Suddenly I was swept and engulfed by an overwhelming realization of my love for this man.

"Well," he said, speaking slowly. "So I resigned. The hospital—the Center—said that, perhaps later, I would return to them. I agreed to consider their offer."

"And I went away. I took a whole year to decide what to do, really hoping that I could go back to the Center and work. Instead I came here to Elmbank."

I smiled at him, my eyes a little misty. "We are all glad that you did."
